DEAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Students, Faculty, and Readers, It is with immense pride and joy that I present to you the annual edition of the MGM Dental College and Hospital magazine, AMALGAM. Each year, this publication serves as a reflection of the remarkable accomplishments, creativity, and relentless spirit that define our vibrant community. This year, in particular, has been a testament to the talent and dedication of our students and staff.

The success of the college fest was a shining example of teamwork, innovation, and organization, making it one of our most memorable celebrations to date. Adding to this, our students' victory at the IDA sports championship not only brought accolades to the institution but also showcased their athletic prowess and competitive spirit. I am especially thrilled to highlight the initiation of the Dental Premier Cricket League—an exciting new tradition that fosters camaraderie and team spirit among our students. Equally impressive is the formation of "Choir 32," our very own music band, which has added a new dimension to our cultural landscape, blending art and medicine beautifully.

This year also saw two significant milestones for MGM Dental College with the inauguration of the MGM Skills Lab and MGM Research Lab. These cutting-edge facilities will further enrich our students' learning experience, enhance clinical training, and contribute to groundbreaking research in dentistry.

Another thing of considerable note is the MOU signed with Temple University, Philadelphia for MPH courses as well as the numerous activities undertaken by Unnatural Bharat Abhiyan community of MGMDCH.

I encourage everyone to continue pushing boundaries, embracing creativity, and striving for excellence in both academic and extracurricular pursuits. You are the future of dentistry, and I have full confidence in your ability to lead this profession forward.

INNOVATION HEAD

ABHISHEK LOHAKPURE

As we wrap up another dynamic and fruitful year at our institution, I am filled with immense pride and excitement to reflect on the strides we've made. This year, we have not only expanded our knowledge base but also established collaboration with other institutions by various programs such as workshops, mentoring sessions, and competitions focused on innovation, problem-solving, and green dentistry. Key activities include collaborative sessions between Pillai and MGM colleges, a visit to the BETIC incubation center, and a hackathon promoting sustainable dental practices.

Our commitment to fostering a culture of curiosity and innovation has empowered our faculty and students to lead impactful projects.

One of the highlights of this year has been the interdisciplinary collaborations that have allowed us to explore new dimensions of research, from biomaterials to AI-driven diagnostics. These partnerships have not only enriched our academic pursuits but also brought us closer to developing solutions that can address real-world challenges in dentistry.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our Dean Dr. Srivali Ma'am, Dr. Niharika Swain, Dr. Rashmi Hosalkar, other faculty members, most importantly passionate students, and all those who have supported.

Abhishek Lohakpure, Signing off.

Interns from MGM Dental College, accompanied by their faculty members, visited the pre-incubation center at IIT Bombay known as BETiC (Biomedical Engineering and Technology Incubation Center). The primary objective of this visit was to engage in a collaborative dialogue about pioneering innovations in the field of dentistry. During the visit, the interns and faculty had the opportunity to interact with leading experts and entrepreneurs at BETiC, exploring cutting-edge technological advancements and discussing potential applications of these innovations in dental practice. The meeting fostered a productive exchange of ideas, highlighting the intersection of biomedical engineering and dentistry. This interaction aimed to inspire new research directions and technological solutions that could enhance dental care, demonstrating the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration in advancing healthcare practices.

Faculty from Pillai College of Engineering recently engaged with faculty members and interns in a series of discussions focused on problem-solving strategies for various dental issues. This interaction aimed to bridge the gap between engineering solutions and practical dental applications.

CULTURAL SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

VEDIKA PANGHARKAR
HEET CHOUHAN

Well this is it- Another year, another college magazine, and somehow we've managed not to lose our minds in the process. This publication is more than just a collection of articles and photographs, it is a reflection of stories that made this year so extraordinary.

As cultural secretaries we have been on a rollercoaster ride of epic proportions, balancing rehearsals, deadlines and the occasional ““Why did we sign up for this?” Who knew managing a fashion show could be more than just a few hours of fun? But amidst the chaos and the inevitable panic, there's something truly magical about seeing our collective efforts come together. This magazine is our way of capturing the whirlwind of emotions, camaraderie and yes, occasional chaos that defines our college life. It's a reminder of countless hours we've spent crafting something, while not perfect is undeniably ours.

So here we are, flipping through the last pages of our one-time masterpiece. We hope this brings a smile or at least a nostalgic eye-roll. Thanks for sticking with us through the madness- it's been a wild ride, and we wouldn't trade it for anything else.

With all the sarcasm and sentiment we could muster, your cultural secretaries signing off

Legacy of freedom

The sparrows flocked in the sky,
And sat upon those graves,
Which had fought violence without a
cry,
And fell to the ground untamed and
brave.
For freedom was a legacy that they passed on
A legacy that took every ounce of blood and sweat,
The sky still rumbles with pride and
mourn,
And the melancholic songs of their
valor are sung with eyes wet.

Every leaf speaks bliss to me, Fluttering from the Autumn tree.

-Emily Bronte

Along windy cold breeze lies the calm and warm breath of life. Sunshines enjoys itself and enlightens our spirit too. Every passing day feels juvenile. This is what Autumn is, right!

Taking lessons from this wonderful seasonal swap, lets execute it for ourselves along the World Mental Health Day, which is on 10th October.

Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness (ie Autumn) is also famous for its diverse festive cultures worldwide.

Magnificent hue transformations by mother nature fascinates me the most. Similarly, we can handle our mental health in a positive way too.

Circumstances may vary from good to worse or vice-versa, but adhering to our optimistic principles, one should always continue aiming without any mental exhaustion. Mental health is crucial for every age group in our society. A healthy and peaceful mind can conquer every hurdle over a course of time.

Let's Meditate, Concentrate and Elevate our life this October along with Autumn.

One Of You

I am in a crowd yet so alone,
Am an object of pity?
Or to be left in a place forlorn?
I tell my heart to be gritty.
Don't be so distant that I can only hear my breath,
Don't leave me be lest you were
to be harmed,
Worry not my friend cause
I'm to face death,
But I fear to lose the life which I wish
would have been charmed.
I write this rhyme to
make you learn,
That I'm neither plagued nor cursed,
It is your love and care that I yearn,
By impending times I'm cradled and nursed.

~ Krutika Rangnekar

In a world where shadows loom,
Hope flickers, like a distant moon.
Faces etched with worry, fear,
Seeking solace, drawing near.

Bridges built, yet gaps remain,
In the fight against the silent pain.
Cancer's grasp, a relentless foe,
Testing courage, with each blow.

But in the midst of darkness deep,
Love and compassion rise to keep
The flames of hope forever bright,
Guiding souls through the darkest night.

Let's close the care gap, hand in hand,
United in a steadfast stand.
With empathy as our guiding star,
Together, we'll heal, no matter how far.

For every heart, every soul, every tear,
We'll fight together, without fear.
On World Cancer Day, let's unite,
And close the care gap, with all our might.

MUSIC COMMITTEE HEAD

HARSHITA MRIGH

Life without music would sound so dull, right?

Music being the strongest form of magic, heals you in every possible way that no medicine can.

As a 1st year student, I had always dreamed of creating my own band in MGM; A band of future Doctors and it came true when I got the opportunity to become the Head of our Music club ("Musical strings").

Being the head was not only an honour but it also brought many responsibilities with it.

From making reports to getting new ideas for the events, from practicing with the crew members to making it live on the stage, from jamming sessions to connecting people with hearts and souls, our Music played its magic making this journey worth living..

And how can we forget the weekly prayers that bought peace to each and every soul from our daily stressful lives.

All this wouldn't have been possible without the guidance of our Staff incharge, Dr Manisha Bhosle ma'am and constant support from our Dean ma'am.

They've played a major role in turning my dream into reality.

This term of internship has been filled with jamming sessions, classical music, recordings, live performances, open mic events, prayers and with Saraswati vandanas for the lighting of the lamps..

And as this journey comes to an end, I'm thankful to each and everyone who made it possible to give their best at any point

And I wish to see our band Choir32 grow with more music enthusiasts, live performances and recordings..

My message to all MGMites would be, that Music is like a shield of magic, no matter what life throws at you, this shield will always soften every blow that comes your way so keep your shields on and cherish the power of magic it carries within.

DANCE COMMITTEE HEAD

ARYAN MISHRA
JAINI GADA

When you dance your purpose is not to get to a certain place on the floor. It is to enjoy each step along the way.

In the same way dentistry is a dance of hands its not to perform the surgery stepwise but to enjoy each step you do and enjoy the process and bring beautiful smiles
